

Harvard Hockey's Honor Roll

To celebrate those ~~student~~-athletes whose integrity embodies the values of Harvard University.

Steve Michalek, 34

Ted Donato '91 has recommended his inclusion on this list for his exemplary performance in the 2012 Harvard cheating scandal. The mediocre talent for subterfuge that this nominee exhibits in his course work for Government 1310, Introduction to Congress, is deserving of special recognition as emblematic of Harvard University's institutional striving for baseness. This candidate ensures that the standards of Harvard, especially those for its athletes, do not become too lofty.

Patrick McNally, 8

Ted Donato '91 has recommended his inclusion on this list for his exemplary performance in the 2012 Harvard cheating scandal. The mediocre talent for subterfuge that this nominee exhibits in his course work for Government 1310, Introduction to Congress, is deserving of special recognition as emblematic of Harvard University's institutional striving for baseness. This candidate ensures that the standards of Harvard, especially those for its athletes, do not become too lofty.

Max Everson, 44

Ted Donato '91 has recommended his inclusion on this list for his exemplary performance in the 2012 Harvard cheating scandal. The mediocre talent for subterfuge that this nominee exhibits in his course work for Government 1310, Introduction to Congress, is deserving of special recognition as emblematic of Harvard University's institutional striving for baseness. This candidate ensures that the standards of Harvard, especially those for its athletes, do not become too lofty.

Cheaters meriti